1. Company

1.1 History

Mythicreation Studios is an independent game developer registered as a LLC in Georgia. Mario Thompson, the founder of Mythicreation Studios, aspired to create a team of passionate individuals who could create a multitude of games spanning several genres and platforms.

To achieve this goal he sought out talent on an international level, bringing together a diverse team with a wealth of cultural experiences. The team had to adapt to the benefits and challenges such an international collaboration would bring.

Each successful release will set the bar higher for Mythicreation Studios. Our goal is to become a household name in the gaming industry.

1.2 The Team

The Mythicreation Studios team currently consist of three members.

Mario Thompson

Founder of the company. Mario is the Studio's CEO and Game Director while also balancing programming, art, animation and several other roles. The backbone of the team that drives everyone to perform at their best.

James Spanos

Music Composer and Sound Designer. James is tasked with the creation of everything to do with audio for the company. Mario works closely with James for creative feedback.

Michael Ecob

Creative Writer. Michael is dedicated as the Lead Writer for an unannounced project and provides creative support.

2. Games

Mythicreation Studios currently has several games in development. Pet Force Quest is the first project we're opening up to the public's attention and we're proud to share this with you.

2.1 Pet Force Quest

2.1.1 What is it?

Pet Force Quest is a hybrid between a space shooter and a pet simulator experience made for a casual audience. Players collect pets that aliens have abducted and, through continued play, grow a bond with their pet avatar that is strengthened through playtime and maintenance out of combat.

The Rescue Mission mode is a bullet hell, space shooter game where the player is tasked with shooting down enemies and dodging attacks. Players can also attempt to collect items used to care for their pets.

The Pet Rooms is a virtual-pet mode where the player maintains their own pet who also serves as their avatar in the Rescue Mission.

There is also monthly leaderboard rankings to challenge the most competitive players.

2.1.2 Who is it for?

The game is not yet rated, but our focus is to create a family friendly experience.

We've designed the game around the strengths of the mobile platform with a short and simple pick-up and play experiences. The two modes in Pet Force Quest allows our players to choose the gameplay that is best suited to their current situation.

2.1.3 When is the expected release?

Pet Force Quest is scheduled to arrive in 2019 on mobile devices for Android, Amazon and iOS.

2.2 Unannounced Games

We're hard at work on several other games, both for mobile and traditional gaming platforms. We don't have any information to share on these games at the current time. We look forward to sharing them with you when the time is right!
